Brandon Lee - The 69 Eyes

What would there be

As the river of sadness turns into sea?

Could there be

Another thousand stories like you and me?

Wanted a heart, wanted a soul

More than anything else in this world

But we are doomed

Our flesh and wounds

I would never give in

Just like the moon does

We rise and shine and fall

Over you that I

Rise and shine and crawl

Victims aren't we all?

What would there be

Beyond the eyes of Brandon Lee?

Could there be

A revenging angel left to bleed?

Wanted the truth, wanted the faith

More than anything else in this world

But we are doomed

Body and soul marooned

I would never give in

Just like the moon does

We rise and shine and fall

Over you that I

Rise and shine and crawl

Victims aren't we all?

Just like the moon does

We rise and shine and fall

Over you that I

Rise and shine and crawl

Victims aren't we all?

Aren't we all?

Aren't we all?

Just like the moon does

We rise and shine and fall
Over you that I
Rise and shine and crawl
Victims aren't we all?
Just like the moon does
We rise and shine and fall
Over you that I
Rise and shine and crawl
Victims aren't we all?
Aren't we all?
Aren't we all?
Angels
