

Differences – Afromental

Different needs, different looks,
Different feelings
Out of place, out of time, out of meaning
Holy rules, that they praise,
Feel like prison
All this pain makes you feel not worth living
And I know this road and the
Lonely coldness but
You're not alone there noo
Though these days still ain't over you've
Got to know
Your life's depending on you
Behind every story
There's fear by your side
For years it's been building hides
I know the glory will come if I try
My feet burn but I do see the light
Different needs, different looks, different
Feelings
Out of place, out of time, out of meaning
And I know this road and the
Lonely coldness but
You're not alone there noo
Though these days still ain't over you've
Got to know
Your life's depending on you
Behind every story
There's fear by your side
For years it's been building hides
I know the glory will come if I try
My feet burn but I do see the light
Your life's depending on you
Behind every story
There's fear by your side
For years it's been building hides
I know the glory will come if I try

My feet burn but I do see the light
My feet burn but I do see the light
My feet burn but I do see the light
Your life's depending on you
Behind every story
There's fear by your side
For years it's been building hides
I know the glory will come if I try
My feet burn but I do see the light
Your life's depending on you
Behind every story
There's fear by your side
For years it's been building hides
I know the glory will come if I try
My feet burn but I do see the light
