

Crystalline – Amaranthe

My precious faith got lost and found
Still thinking of you
It is engraved in fallen vines
Still linger with you
I didn't break, I didn't change
I didn't close my heart
Will we ever see, will we ever learn
What is real and what is true?
I can hear you
You are afar
But I know my heart is crystalline
Don't fall down now
This is a start
And I know your heart is crystalline
I cannot wait, been long enough
Still burning for you
When will I be forever locked
Inside of your heart?
I'm not afraid, have no regrets
I am prepared to dive
Into your world, where I belong
That is real and that is true
I can hear you
You are afar
But I know my heart is crystalline
Don't fall down now
This is a start
And I know your heart is crystalline
I can hear you
You are afar
And I know your heart
I can hear you
You are afar
But I know my heart is crystalline
Don't fall down now
This is a start

And I know your heart
I can hear you
You are afar
But I know my heart is crystalline
Don't fall down now
This is a start
And I know your heart is crystalline
