

Love to Blame – Apoptygma Berzerk

We've gone a long way while learning
Still our hearts kept on burning
We've gone right, we've gone straight
And ended up far - out
We've reaped the fruits of deception
Opened the doors of perception
And burned down all the bridges
We came across
When will you be whole again?
We've both been down that road
Going nowhere
Still you ask is love to blame?
When will you be whole again?
We've both been down that road
Going nowhere
Still you ask is love to blame?
We've gone a long way while learning
Still our hearts kept on burning
We've gone right, we've gone straight
And ended up far - out
We've reaped the fruits of deception
Opened the doors of perception
And burned down all the bridges
We came across
When will you be whole again?
We've both been down that road
Going nowhere
Still you ask is love to blame?
When will you be whole again?
We've both been down that road
Going nowhere
Still you ask is love to blame?

When will you be whole again?
We've both been down that road
Going nowhere
Still you ask is love to blame?
