Waves - Blondfire

You hear them when you try to fall asleep They crash to the shore, they come from the

Deep

As sure as the sun will rise, the sun will

Set

You taste the salt the closer you get

Waves

Picking you up

Pushing you down

They're always around

Waves

Just like dream

Silver and green

We live in between

They can carry you all the way to me

They can pull you out to the deep blue sea

Oh waves, there are waves

Empires will crumble to the sand

All that you love can slip through your hand

But you must face the ocean once again

Follow the tides, wherever you've been

Waves

Picking you up

Pushing you down

They're always around

Waves

Just like dream

Silver and green

We live in between

They can carry you all the way to me

They can pull you out to the deep blue sea

Oh waves, there are waves

Waves

Picking you up

Pushing you down

They're always around

Waves
Just like dream
Silver and green
We live in between
They can carry you all the way to me
They can pull you out to the deep blue sea
Oh waves, there are waves
