

Love Is A Shield – Camouflage

Love is a shield,
To hide behind,
Love is a field
To grow inside,
And when I sometimes close my eyes
My mind starts spinning round
Love is a baby
In a mother's arms,
Love is your breath
Which makes me warm,
And when I sometimes close my eyes,
My mind starts spinning round
There is a feeling
That flows through me,
When you are near
You make it real
And we could live for this ideal
And all the pictures we run through,
Seem to be perfect,
Seem to be true
But nothing is quite forever,
Especially staying together
Love is a shield,
To hide behind,
Love is a field
To grow inside,
And when I sometimes close my eyes
My mind starts spinning round
Love is a baby
In a mother's arms,
Love is your breath
Which makes me warm,
And when I sometimes close my eyes,
My mind starts spinning round
Love is a shield,
To hide behind,

Love is a field
To grow inside,
And when I sometimes close my eyes
My mind starts spinning round
Love is a baby
In a mother's arms,
Love is your breath
Which makes me warm,
And when I sometimes close my eyes,
My mind starts spinning round
I don't care now
What comes along,
What counts is us,
No matter what will be,
Just this naivety
The changing words we're taking in,
Seem to be perfect,
Seem to win
But nothing is quite forever,
Especially staying together
Love is a shield,
To hide behind,
Love is a field
To grow inside,
And when I sometimes close my eyes
My mind starts spinning round
Love is a baby
In a mother's arms,
Love is your breath
Which makes me warm,
And when I sometimes close my eyes,
My mind starts spinning round
