

Another you – Cascada

So many times I was alone
And couldn't sleep
You left me drowning in the tears of memory
I never sensed you gone,
I found it hard to breathe '
Cause there was so much that
Your heart just couldn't see
A thousand wasted dreams rolling off my eyes
But time's been healing me and I say good-bye
'Cause I can breathe again, dream again
I'll be on the road again
Like it used to be the other day
Now I feel free again, so innocent
'Cause someone makes me whole again For sure
I'll find another you
Could you imagine someone else is by my side?
I've been afraid
I couldn't keep myself from falling
My heart was always searching for
A place to hide
Could not await the dawn
To bring another day
You're not the only one so here me when I say
The thoughts of you, they just fade away
'Cause I can breathe again, dream again
I'll be on the road again
Like it used to be the other day
Now I feel free again, so innocent
'Cause someone makes me whole again
For sure
I'll find another you
Sometimes I see you when I close my eyes
You're still a part of my life
But I can breathe again, dream again
I'll be on the road again
Like it used to be the other day

Now I feel free again, so innocent
'Cause someone makes me whole again
For sure
I'll find another you,
mm Oh, I'll find another you
