

Living in the Moonlight – Collage

Living in the Moonlight
Visions are floating through my mind
And here, by the fire
I can't tell the sparks from shooting stars

Living in the Moonlight
I feel so safe and so secure
And she's my religions now
She's not here but I can feel her heart

Living in the Moonlight
I feel the emptiness of dawn
Splendour of a rainy Fall
Makes my tears escape into the ground

Walking in the blue light
Digesting dreams by single touch
A splendour in dying
Never ever was my guiding light

So lonely so lonely
So lonely in the starlight dazzling rain
So lonely, forever faithfull

So lonely so lonely
So lonely in the starlight dazzling rain
So lonely, forever faithfull

When I feel silence in my heart
I call your name out in the dark
To break the spell
To make it right

When I feel silence in my heart
I call your name out in the dark

To break the spell
To make it right

Get me out of here

Living in the Moonlight
I feel so safe and so secure
And she's my religions now
She's not here but I can feel her heart
I can feel her heart
