

When Love Is The Missing Word – Cretu & Thiers

Said I'd try to be alone
I didn't know my real inside
The Sun went down
I'm overflown by need
I can't fight the time
I can't find the line
And it brings me back to earth
And I can hear what somebody's saying
When love is the missing word
Tell me where you go from here
When love is the second hurt tonight
Nobody can survive
When love is the missing word
Tell me where you go from here
Nobody could help me
For the time
One hurt I never knew before
Was you pushing it too far
The second's been the feature
Of your mind
I can't fight the time
I can't find the line
And it brings me back to earth
Why is your treat to be unkind
When love is the missing word
Tell me where you go from here
When love is the second hurt tonight
Nobody can survive
When love is the missing word
Tell me where you go from here
Nobody could help me
For the time
