Feels like fire – Dido feat. Santana

I'm telling you it's over Now there's an angel Holding me My way's easy Even if you're fallen Or you're struggling There's still beauty In what we do So que sera Let's go sailing on There's a wise man In every fool I say come back Come in from the cold Into the warm I feel like fire Guiding you back home As darkness falls So everyone stands in line Cos they wanna stay alive To wait alone No dog no bone And then you find it's over Still it tears your heart To slip away From the crowd But if you have What it takes To return to where All the world Knows your name Then que sera Let's go sailing on There's a wise man In every fool I say come back

Come in from the cold Into the warm I feel like fire Guiding you back home As darkness falls I say come home Leave it all behind And settle down I feel my love Can give me what I want For all time
