Omen – Disclosure ft. Sam Smith

I'm feeling something, something different When you left, my picture change I was blinded, I'd not envisioned The same face in a different frame

It's an omen, Caught my baby crying, saw the silver lining It must be an omen Needed you to show me, without you I am lonely

My mind would rule my heart I didn't pay attention to the light in the dark It left me torn apart, But now I see your tears are an omen

Oh-Oh-Oh-Oh Oh-Oh-Oh-Omen

You were waiting, I was vacant You left before my eyes, Then it hit me, you're relocating And I need you by my side

It's an omen, Caught my baby crying, saw the silver lining It must be an omen Needed you to show me, without you I am lonely

My mind would rule my heart I didn't pay attention to the light in the dark It left me torn apart, But now I see your tears are an omen

My mind would rule my heart I didn't pay attention to the light in the dark It left me torn apart, But now I see your tears are an omen

Oh-Oh-Oh-Oh Oh-Oh-Oh-Omen Oh-Oh-Oh-Oh
