

Something about you – Elderbrook & Rudimental

I miss the touch of morning time
Making silhouettes of us
Way back when we had our paradise
Been staying up all through the night
Smoking, drinking, getting high
I was wrong and I apologize
Where did you go?
What can I do?
I'm working on my problems
But I need you here to solve them
Where did you go?
What should I say?
I hope that I can make a change
'Cause
There's something 'bout you
Keeping me sober
I was struggling in the moment
But now I'm holding onto you
There's something 'bout you
Keeping me sober
I was struggling in the moment
But now I'm holding onto you
There's something 'bout you
That keeps taking me up when I'm low
There's something 'bout you
That keeps taking me up when I'm low
I miss the company we had
Back when I was still on track
Now I'm making my own paradise
But now the drink is tasting strange
And the high isn't the same
Well I'm still wrong and I apologize
Where did you go?
What can I do?
I'm working on my problems

But I need you here to solve them
Where did you go?
What should I say?
I hope that I can make a change
'Cause
There's something 'bout you
Keeping me sober
I was struggling in the moment
But now I'm holding onto you
There's something 'bout you
Keeping me sober
I was struggling in the moment
But now I'm holding onto you
There's something 'bout you
That keeps taking me up when I'm low
There's something 'bout you
That keeps taking me up when I'm low
There's something 'bout you
Keeping me sober
I was struggling in the moment
But now I'm holding onto you
Ooh oh, holding onto you
Oh, holding onto you
Oh, holding onto you
There's something 'bout you
That keeps taking me up when I'm low
(And I've been falling)
There's something 'bout you
That keeps taking me up when I'm low
(And I've been falling)
There's something 'bout you
