

Runaway – Electric Youth

On the brink of a new day
On the heels of something more
With the strength of a hundred hands
They're stronger than before
They say she'll grow out of it
Their contemptuous and cool
In pursuit of happiness
We'll find a way
Maybe we can just run away
Maybe we can just run away
Maybe we can just run away for good
Cause were both misunderstood
On the brink of a new day
On the heels of something more
In the wake of a heavy hand
There's a new world to explore
They say shell grow out of it
Their contemptuous and cool
In pursuit of happiness
We'll find a way
Maybe we can just run away
Maybe we can just run away
Maybe we can just leave this place for good
Cause were both misunderstood
Cause were both misunderstood
Maybe we can just run away
Maybe we can just run away
Maybe we can just leave this place for good
Cause were both misunderstood
Maybe we can just run away
Maybe we can just run away
Maybe we can just leave this place for good
Cause were both misunderstood
Cause were both misunderstood
Cause were both misunderstood
