

Stone in my hand – Everlast

Ride with the devil, hide with the Lord
I got no pistol, ain't got no sword
I got no army, ain't got no land
Ain't got nothing
But the stone that's in my hand
Stone in my hand, stone in my hand
Ain't got nothing
But the stone that's in my hand
You say you want a revolution,
Well, get on board
We'll start a new crusade,
We'll start a Holy war
Don't need no orders, don't need no plan
I don't need nothing
But the stone that's in my hand
Stone in my hand, stone in my hand
I don't need nothing
But the stone that's in my hand
Stone in my hand, stone in my hand
I don't need nothing
But the stone that's in my hand
You build your fighter jets,
You drop your bombs
You kill our fathers, you kill our moms
Kill our brothers and our sisters,
And our uncles and our aunts
Still I'm fighting
With the stone that's in my hand
Stone in my hand, stone in my hand
Still I'm fighting
With the stone that's in my hand
Stone in my hand, stone in my hand
All the love that's in my heart
And the stone that's in my hand
Blood runs the gutters, smoke fills the sky
Every son that suffers, every mother cries

So if you've had enough
And you're ready for your stand
I'll be waiting
With the stone that's in my hand
Stone in my hand, stone in my hand
I'll be waiting
With the stone that's in my hand
Stone in my hand, stone in my hand
All the love that's in my heart
And the stone that's in my hand
