

Words – Harel Skaat

I can feel again
How it all began
But this is the end
I feel tonight
I closed my eye
A silent cry
To see you in the dim
The dim of light
With my fears
These bloody tears
Are burning me inside
But I will sing you one more song
At least, I know that I have tried
You left me only words,
And in these words I hide
A story that is heard
Without you by my side
You left me only words
Till they fade away
How I pray to have those words today
This empty room
The feel of gloom
Just take it all
It's all for you
Our battle ends
At break of dawn
But what is left for me
When you are gone?
You left me only words,
And in these words I hide
A story that is heard
Without you by my side
You left me only words
Till they fade away
How I pray to have those words today
You left me only words

And in these words I hide
Empty room of stories
Without you by my side
You left me only words
Till they fade away
How I pray to have those words today
And I get cold as ice
When I'm reminded
Of where you are tonight
Gleaming in his light
I need you even though
All these words that you left me
Are now for him to know
You left me only words
Till they fade away
How I pray to have those words today
Iszachart li rak milm miklat ben atshalim
Swarim mesadarim uwejna chadarim
Iszachart li rak mililm zer szhel manulim
Elochim iszchart li rak milim
Miszchart li rak milim
