

Mastermind – Helluva Boss

I came down just as soon
As I heard Of the imp
Stood accused of a devilish crime
Could it be that a worm
Such as this, half a brain
Could concoct such a plot so sublime?
Does this fool deserve the flame
Or is someone else to blame?
Like who, you ask?
Some kind of mastermind,
A mind behind the plan
Some villain's grand design
To use the book to
Breach the world of man
Could he be roaming free,
Scheming more mastermind-ary?
Will he rest?
Who knows what he may unleash, Next,
Do you execute this little wretch
Pat yourself on the back,
Close the case?
Let this imp take the blame,
Take the fame Let his name
Light a fire in the hearts of his race?
Why, it's more than I can bear
I must make all of Hell aware
Fuck it,
I am the mastermind
The hand that holds the strings
No simple imp of mine
Could master the disaster
Oh, it stings that you thought
You had caught the schemer
Of the schemes I wrought
I confess,
It was me and I have no regrets

I have regrets
Why am I throwing my freedom away
For this idiot?
What have you done?
I would rather be dead
Than (live life without you by my side)
So if it keeps you alive
What are you doing?
I don't deserve this
I am the mastermind
The master of my fate
I realized too late
Sure as the stars have shined
I'll (give my life to clean your {my} slate)
You're my light
You're my heart
(Only death can rend our love apart)
Hahahahahahahaha
Well, Isn't that adorable
We have been betrayed
By one of our own,
A Goetic demon
Your hubris has gotten the better of you,
Prince Stolas
I am the mastermind, and here, I am the law
(He is the law)
I ruled the endless dark
Since long before the golden angel's fall
So you see, next to me,
Your master plans all look so small
Little mice, when you break my rules,
You pay the price
