

The Picture – Hubert KaH

Don't know how I'm gonna tell you this
Now I'm feeling so confused
And I know you'll be mad
If you could look at my eyes
Back at home where I belong
Back at home it seemed so wrong
To be cheated again
My fair lady loves me so well
She'll forgive me
When she took a look in my eyes
She saw a picture of you
Maybe you were her in disguise
And I was never untrue
Surely you will understand
I must take my life in hand
And forget all of it
You don't need me hangin around
Love is waiting
When she took a look in my eyes
She saw a picture of you
Maybe you were her in disguise
And I was never untrue
When she took a look in my eyes
She saw a picture of you
Maybe you were her in diguise
And I was never untrue
When she took a look in my eyes
Maybe you were her in disguise
