

Allen Stone – I will give you blue (acoustic)

Well I can't stop the rain
But I will keep you dry
And if the shore feels far away
I'll be by your side
And when the storms arise
I will shelter you
'Cause when your sky is gray
I will give you blue
Well I can't move a mountain
'Cause I am just a man
Well I can't undo what's happened
But I will understand
And although it may hurt
Baby, I'll tell you the truth
'Cause when your sky is grayed
I will give you blue
I can't stop the rain
But I will wipe your tears
I wish I could take what hurts you
And just make it disappear
But I can't work no miracles
But I'll do what I can do
'Cause when your sky is gray
Baby, I will give you blue
When your sky is gray
I will give you blue
Oh well I will give you blue
