Allen Stone - I will give you blue (acoustic)

Well I can't stop the rain But I will keep you dry And if the shore feels far away I'll be by your side And when the storms arise I will shelter you 'Cause when your sky is gray I will give you blue Well I can't move a mountain 'Cause I am just a man Well I can't undo what's happened But I will understand And although it may hurt Baby, I'll tell you the truth 'Cause when your sky is grayed I will give you blue I can't stop the rain But I will wipe your tears I wish I could take what hurts you And just make it disappear But I can't work no miracles But I'll do what I can do 'Cause when your sky is gray Baby, I will give you blue When your sky is gray I will give you blue Oh well I will give you blue
