

I'll Stay – Isabela Merced

My feet are sore from walking all night long
No direction when there's nowhere to go
Empty picture frames of times all gone
Lonely echos of the stories we've told
If you put on my shoes walk a mile or two
'Til your eyes open wider then they used to
Then I will meet you there
Where the air is clear
Pinky swear, I'll meet you there
And I'll stay, with you I see new colors
And I'll stay, today until forever
And I'll stay, with you I see new colors
My eyes are open wider today until forever
I'll stay with you
Familiar faces as we chase the moon
Fall in love and I'll come crying to you
Through the changes and the Earth's bad moods
I'll lay my troubled bones on you
If you, put on my shoes walk a mile or two
'Til your eyes open wider then they used to
Then I will meet you there
Where the air is clear
Pinky swear, I'll meet you there
And I'll stay, with you I see new colors
And I'll stay, today until forever
And I'll stay, with you I see new colors
My eyes are open wider today until forever
I'll stay with you
I'll stay with you
And I'll stay, with you I see new colors
And I'll stay, today until forever
And I'll stay, with you I see new colors
My eyes are open wider today until forever
I'll stay with you
My eyes are open wider
Tonight

When I'm a hundred two, and
I can't sing to you
Close your eyes, memorize how we used to
