

Ghost – Jamie-Lee Kriewitz

The story of us

Is it already told?

Let's tear the book apart

Start to rewrite it all

We're already gone

But still in this together

Like a dragon to its gold

We're still holding on

Our life will wait for us to live

(We don't need a lifetime to figure out what we miss)

The love we get is the love we give

I'm only just full of love that we're here to give

This is the ghost of you

Haunting the ghost of me

Lonely in a crowded room together

Tell me who's scared now?

This is the ghost of you

Haunting the ghost of me

Playing house in this room forever

Tell me who's scared now?

Can we get an alternate ending?

Can we get an alternate ending?

Oohh

Somehow we will change

Everything that we touch

But we held on too tight

And changed it too much

We sweep up this love

Put the pieces back together

And if we find more

Can we bring this to life?

Our life will wait for us to live

We don't need a lifetime to figure out what we miss

The love we get is the love we give

I'm only just full of love that we're here to give

This is the ghost of you

Haunting the ghost of me

Lonely in a crowded room together

Tell me who's scared now?

This is the ghost of you

Haunting the ghost of me

Playing house in this room forever

Tell me who's scared now?

This is the ghost of you

Haunting the ghost of me

Lonely in a crowded room together

Tell me who's scared now?

This is the ghost of you

Haunting the ghost of me

Playing house in this room forever

Tell me who's scared now?
