

When The Summer's Gone – Kidburn

The Sun is gone and I'm all alone
I listen to my radio
It's playing songs that remind me
Of a kiss in the dark
I wake up lonely in my sticky sweat
I light another cigarette
It's time to break the spell, don't hesitate
Tell me, will you still want me
When tomorrow comes?
Will you still hold me
When the lights go out
And the magic's come?
Will you still touch me
Like the nights before?
Will you still love me
When the summer's gone?
Maybe it's just another dream
Remember how I made you scream
Cause you're the one
And your laugh took arrow deep in my heart
I need to find out how I'm wrong
Still waiting right here for you, darling
Don't walk away, please, don't hesitate
Tell me, will you still want me
When tomorrow comes?
Will you still hold me
When the lights go out
And the magic's come?
Will you still touch me
Like the nights before?
Will you still love me
When the summer's gone?
Oh-oh, when tomorrow comes
Oh-oh, when the summer's gone
Oh-oh, when tomorrow comes
Oh-oh, when the summer's gone

Oh-oh, when tomorrow comes
Oh-oh, when the summer's gone
Oh-oh, when tomorrow comes
Oh-oh, when the summer's gone
Oh-oh, when tomorrow comes
Oh-oh, when the summer's gone
Oh-oh, when tomorrow comes
Oh-oh, when the summer's gone
Oh-oh, when tomorrow comes
Oh-oh, when the summer's gone
Oh-oh, when tomorrow comes
Oh-oh, when the summer's gone
Oh-oh, when tomorrow comes
Oh-oh, when the summer's gone
Oh-oh, when tomorrow comes
Oh-oh, when the summer's gone
