

The Risk – Laufey

All the lives I've lived
I'm ready to forgive myself
Deep lake, diving in
My love, could we begin again?
Part of me's missing
I doubt you see how helpless I feel
Fragile, my heart
I long to be held, long to be loved
Might be a myth
But I'll take the risk
Such a lonely road
Found a kindred soul that night
Like I knew you from somewhere
Like magic in the air
Now I see you everywhere
Part of me's missing
I doubt you see how helpless I feel
Fragile, my heart
I long to be held, long to be loved
Might be a myth
But I'll take the
Rewrite my elegy, childhood memories
Fall in love with me, get soaked
Inside my symphony, fragmented parts of me
Dance in the bitter, the sweet, the cold
What if we were meant to be?
If we don't jump, we'll never know
Part of me's missing
I doubt you see how helpless I feel
Fragile, my heart
I long to be held, I long to be loved
Might be a myth
But I'll take the risk
I'll take the risk
