

It'll be ok – Limp Bizkit

I just read your letter
It says that you'll be gone for a while
Everything was getting better
I guess I'm just a fool strung out

What to do
My life is through
Just want to kill
Myself for you

I wonder
Just how sympathetic you'll be
You've come to take me under
And I've forgotten all about me

What to do
My life is through
Just want to kill
Myself for you

So tell me why?
You say goodbye
And tell me why
You're fucking up my whole life?
Yeah
Fucking up my whole life?

So I'm on my way
I leave today
If I get away
It'll be ok
It'll be ok

I'm looking out a window
Into a world that's taken you from me
And I'm feeling so disgusted

How pathetic can I possibly be?

What to do?

What to do

My life is through

Just want to kill

Myself for you

So tell me why?

You say goodbye

And tell me why

You're fucking up my whole life?

Yeah

Fucking up my whole life?

So I'm on my way

I leave today

If I get away

It'll be ok

It'll be ok

If there's a better place you can take me

A better life you give me

Whatever place I can start all over

And I will never need what you gave me

And never need you to save me

And never feel like this life is over

If there's a better place you can take me

A better life you give me

Whatever place I can start all over

Then I would never need what you gave me

And never need you to save me

And never feel like this life is over

Feel like this life is over

So I'm on my way

I leave today

If I get away

It'll be ok

It'll be ok
