

Speak your heart – Lizz Wright

I know what you wanna say,
I see the words behind your eyes
By the time you show me what you're hiding it won't be no surprise
Why do you keep on whispering
Talking with your face turned away
You say that love don't come easy for you
What makes you think I ain't afraid
Let me in, or let me go
It's time you tell me
where you're standing baby
I won't go down if you say no
Just open up your mouth and say it baby
Speak your heart
Speak your heart
You used to say,
The world goes away when you're with me
I don't want to be your reoccurring dream
Let me out, let me stay after the sun rises
I want to be real to you, no more disguises
Let me in, or let me go
It's time you tell me
where you're standing baby
I won't go down if you say no
Just open up your mouth and say it baby
Speak your heart
Speak your heart
Speak your heart
Speak your heart
