

The Tower – Luna

Looking for a miracle
Waiting for a sun to catch me
I've gotta find a way back home
Alone, alone, alone
Hoping for a star to fall
Something I can make a wish on
Could it be that I'm the fool
But aren't we all, we all, we all
Broken bodies
Scattered through my history
Lonely hours
Leading to my destiny
I'm the one who built the tower
I'm the one who holds the power
So come on
Rise up shout it louder
I'm the one who built the tower
Shining in a tiger's eyes
Only I can find my future
Reading in between the lines
I draw my own, my own, my own
Running down the waterfall
Always tried to chase the rainbow
I never found a pot of gold
Below, below, below
Broken bodies
Scattered through my history
Lonely hours
Leading to my destiny
I'm the one who built the tower
I'm the one who holds the power
I'm the one who built the tower
I'm the one who holds the power
So come on
Rise up shout it louder
I'm the one who built the tower
