

Tragedia – Marc Anthony

Time after time you turned
From what I thought was good
And leave me behind you should've loved me
Like, I knew that you could
But oh, no, this won't be no hard goodbye
Oh, no, you can't hurt me this time
She doesn't love me, oh my, Lord
It doesn't mean it's a tragedy, tragedy
She doesn't mean it, say that she don't
This doesn't have to be a tragedy, tragedy
Oh, no, this doesn't have to be a tragedy
All of my life I was searching
For the love that we had Without knowing why you turned Around and treat me so bad
But oh, no, I'll just hold my tears inside
Oh, no, maybe you'll find another lover who Will cry
She doesn't love me, oh, my Lord
It doesn't mean it's a tragedy, tragedy
She doesn't mean it, say that she don't
This doesn't have to be a tragedy, tragedy
Oh, no this doesn't have to be a tragedy,
Tragedy
She doesn't mean it, say that she don't
This doesn't have to be a tragedy
On the phone for hours
But we had very little conversation
We spoke of words with no meaning
We spoke of love with no end, I tell myself again
She doesn't love me, oh, my Lord
It doesn't mean it's a tragedy, tragedy
She doesn't mean it, say that she don't
This doesn't have to be a tragedy, tragedy
Oh, no, this doesn't have to be a tragedy,

Tragedy

She doesn't mean it, say that she don't

This doesn't have to be a tragedy

Baby, she doesn't love me, oh, my Lord

It doesn't mean it's a tragedy, tragedy

She doesn't mean it, say that she don't

This doesn't have to be a tragedy, tragedy

Oh, no, this doesn't have to be a tragedy,

Tragedy

She doesn't mean it, say that she don't

This doesn't have to be a tragedy
