

Anywhere I Lay My Head – Marianne Rosenberg

Forty days I'm crying and forty nights
For my dream he's dying and all my pride
Endless days I'm praying come back and stay
You change my wile by saying there's no way
Love is what you gave me and Love is what
You take

Anywhere (I lay my head) I see your face
Your warm embrace I can forget
Anywhere (I lay my head) I feel the same
I'm with you, without you again
Forty days you're lying you'd be my friend
I know you will be crying in the end
Endless strong desire, my tears away
You set my night on fire, I make your day
Time will turn the pages, and Time will Heal my pain

Anywhere (I lay my head) I see your face
Your warm embrace I can forget
Anywhere (I lay my head) I clear
I'm with you, without you again
Anywhere (I lay my head) I clear
I'm with you, without you again
