

Damiano David – Next Summer

Thought that we had something
Good in our hands
In a minute, it just slipped away
So many things I didn't say
Before you threw it all away
I pretend I'm okay, but I'm lost and afraid
And nobody really understands
But now I'm dancin' to a band
With all the demons in my head
Call me when he breaks your heart next summer
Baby, I'll be waiting here
Call me when you're all fucked up, my lover
And I'll be there to lick your tears
You had to throw away our love
To find out nothing's as good as us
So call me when he breaks
Your heart next summer
"If you love, let 'em go,
it's a saying that I heard
But I don't know if it works for me
So if I see you on my street
I'll know that it was meant to be
Do you still think of me when You're under the sheets
Or does he give you everything? Yeah
And I can see it on your face
That you were happier with me
So call me when he breaks
Your heart next summer
Baby, I'll be waiting here
Call me when you're all fucked up, my lover
And I'll be there to lick your tears
You had to throw away our love
To find out nothing's as good as us
So call me when he breaks
Your heart next summer

Tried everything under the sun
Every girl and every drug
It's never gonna be enough
'Cause you're the one
Call me when he breaks your heart next summer
Baby, I'll be waiting here
Call me when you're all fucked up, my lover
And I'll be there to lick your tears
But since you threw away our love
Then maybe something's as good as us
I really hope he breaks your Heart next summer
