One Second - Paradise Lost

And for one second

I lost my head

And for one second

I wished that you were dead

And for one second

You wish that you were here all alone

Hold back the tears that could fall for me

And for one second

I lost my breath

And for one second

I cherish what you said

And for one second

It seemed that I was here all alone

Hold back the tears that could fall for me

And for one second

I understand

And for one second

My life was in your hands

And for one second

You wish that you were here all alone

Hold back the tears that could fall for me

They fall alone
