We Drink Your Blood - PowerWolf

Our mother God, we hold The sword in holy times We are the war, never see the light The order call, we all will Take more human wine And we toast to the night We fold our hands, We keep the Bible in our minds Our father God, we are the hordes of Cain And though you run we will Take you and we find Any type, any vein We drink your blood When the midnight sky is red We drink your blood And we call the sanguine saints We drink your blood When the midnight sky is red We drink your blood And we open your veins Our father Lord, We are the demons of the wild When all we pray, stand the fight as one We tame the storm, We are the martyrs in the light Take your soul when you run We are the dark, We are the saints of blood at night We hear the call when the moon shines red We grab your body, in the morning all we are Satisfied and you're dead We drink your blood When the midnight sky is red We drink your blood And we call the sanguine saints

We drink your blood

When the midnight sky is red
We drink your blood
And we open your veins
Kyrie eleison
Kyrie eleison
We drink your blood
When the midnight sky is red
We drink your blood
And we call the sanguine saints
We drink your blood
When the midnight sky is red
We drink your blood
When the midnight sky is red
We drink your blood and we open your veins
