Colony 13 - Primal Fear

Striking through the dust With elemental forces Keeping up the quest And all will turn to wrecks Hiding in the dark No one ever sees me The enemy returns The land will turn to black You hide in dignity Our time is done Gone for eternity When all is gone You cry, you die It's your last resort When all is turning black In Colony 13 You see the sky It's the final sign When all is turning black In Colony 13 Racing through the light At cyberspeed and silver You feel it in your bones It's the final call Red on the horizon Screams out of the dirt The final gunshot sounds You take the final breath You hide in dignity Our time is done Gone for eternity When all is gone You cry, you die It's your last resort When all is turning black

In Colony 13

You see the sky It's the final sign When all is turning black In Colony 13 Striking through the dust With elemental forces Keeping up the quest And all will turn to wreck You hide in dignity Our time is done Gone for eternity When all is gone You cry, you die It's your last resort When all is turning black In Colony 13 You see the sky It's the final sign When all is turning black In Colony 13 You cry, you die When all is turning black In Colony 13 You see the sky When all is turning black In Colony 13 You see the sign in the sky
