

Substitution ft. Julian Perretta – Purple Disco Machine & Kungs

Am I high or low

Am I bipolar

Need another you

To shake it, shake it

Ohh I love that face

Perfect stranger

'Cause I could use someone

To shake it, shake it

But I know that I can't get you out of my head

And I know I can't numb you away

Yeah I know when I wake up with her instead

No there ain't no one replacing you

No there ain't no one replacing you

Been looking for substitution

Healing my hearts confusion

Been looking for substitution

But there ain't no one replacing you

Been looking for substitution

Losing all of my illusions

Looking for substitution

'Cause there ain't no one replacing you

Gotta loosen up

My emotions

Just start it up

To shake it, shake it

When I hear your name

I can't be sober

I could use someone

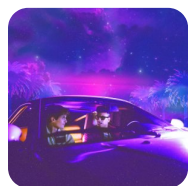

To shake it shake it

But I know that I can't get you out of my head

And I know I can't numb you away

Yeah I know when I wake up with her instead
No there ain't no one replacing you
No there ain't no one
No there ain't no one
No there ain't no one
No there ain't no one replacing you

Been looking for substitution
Healing my hearts confusion
Been looking for substitution
But there ain't no one replacing you
Been looking for substitution
Losing all of my illusions
Looking for substitution
'Cause there ain't no one replacing you
'Cause there ain't no one replacing you
