Miles Away – Memphis May Fire

I pack my bags And say goodbye to my wife For what seems like the millionth time

They said it gets easier, But they lied She looks at me & says "really baby, I will be just fine," But then she looks away So I don't have to see her cry And that is when I ask myself;

How am I supposed to be Everything they expect me to be When I feel so alone, Because I left my heart at home She needs me, But I know they need me too So God, Give me the strength To do what you created me to do

Really I'm so thankful For the people I meet, The places I've been And the things I've seen, But when she's not here It doesn't feel like I'm living my dream

I know they say that no one is perfect, But I swear she's perfect for me And that makes it so much harder to leave

How am I supposed to be Everything they expect me to be When I feel so alone, Because I left my heart at home She needs me, But I know they need me too So God, Give me the strength to do what you created me to do

If you miss me, I'm just a phone call away Please be strong, Be strong for me I need you to show me how to change the inside of me For my heart, for their sake Be strong, Be strong for me!

How am I supposed to be Everything they expect me to be When I feel so alone, So alone! How am I supposed to be Everything they expect me to be When I feel so alone, Because I left my heart at home She needs me, But I know they need me too So God, Give me the strength to do what you created me to do
