

Velvet Dreams – Repentance

It was your gentle motion
Like dancing of the fall
It was your charming voice
Like a siren's call
You were so tempting with your angel grace
You pulled my hand and took me in embrace
Day after day, night after night
I dream of you, you're in my sight
Give me a tender touch I want to feel it now
Don't say I ask too much
And please don't ask me how
I touched your velvet skin,
Caressed your hair
You were my beautiful and sweet nightmare
Day after day, night after night
I dream of you, you're in my sight
Your eyes looked down inside my heart
Your smile was just like autumn art
You teased me by your finger and
Gave me a kiss
Then we sunk ourselves
In the kingdom of the bliss
Day after day, night after night
I dream of you, you're in my sight
Day after day, night after night
I dream of you, you're in my sight
