Advertising Space – Robbie Williams

There's no earthly way of knowing What was in your heart When it stopped going The whole world shook A storm was blowing through you Waiting for God, to stop this And up to your neck, in darkness Everyone around you was corrupted Saying something There's no dignity in death To sell the world, your last breath We're still fighting over Everything you left I saw you standing at the gates When Marlon Brando passed away You had that look upon your face Advertising space No one, learned from your mistakes We let our prophets go to waste All that's left in any case Is advertising space Through your eyes the world was burning Please be gentle, I'm still learning You seemed to say, as you kept turning up They poisoned you with compromise At what point did you realize Everybody loves your life but you aaa A special agent for the man Through Watergate and Vietnam No one really gave a damn Did you think the CIA did I saw you standing at the gates When Marlon Brando passed away You had that look upon your face Advertising space No one learned from your mistake

We let our prophets go to waste All that's left in any case Is advertising space Ooo ooo No one learned from your mistakes We let our prophets go to waste All that's left in any case Is advertising space I've seen your daughter Man, she's cute I was scared but I wanted to Boy, she looks a lot like you
