

Show Me Love feat. J.U.D.G.E. – Robin Schulz

There's a notebook on the table
You can take it to the store
So You won't forget the groceries anymore
There's a rifle in the cabinet
That I used to fight a war
But to this day I don't know what I was fightin for I'm fighting for

Will You show me love as we get older
And I'm falling at your feet
After thirty years of service and
One to fit our need
Show me love as we grow colder
Let our love provide the heat
When our older bones are missing
But our hearts will never meet

There's a blanket on the sofa that I used to keep You warm
When I find You fast asleep at half past four
There's a record we keep turning
That reminds us of our youth
But there's still nothing as beautiful as You

Will You show me love as we get older
And I'm falling at your feet
After thirty years of service and
One to fit our need
Show me love as we grow colder
Let our love provide the heat
When our older bones are missing
But our hearts will never meet

(As we grow colder
Love provide the heat
Older bones are missing
Hearts will never meet)

Because your hand
Belongs in my hand
Belonges in your hand
Belonges with, with me

Will You show me love as we get older
And I'm falling at your feet
After thirty years of service and
One to fit our need
Show me love as we grow colder
Let our love provide the heat
After thirty years of service and
One to fit our need

Show me love as we grow colder
Let our love provide the heat
When our older bones are missing
But our hearts will never meet
