

Moon of Dreams – Ruslana

I knew it wasn't meant to last
We couldn't be the choice of luck
And now im looking in the past
But it's the present where i start
And there is no pain anymore
And nothing i can blame you for
It's just i'm missing you so much
I miss the energy of your love
Like A wounded bird in the lonely sky
I just can't forget that i use to fly
Take me back take me back to the moon of dreams
Bring me back bring me back to the moon of dreams
Like a Frozen tear on the shaken leaf
I am left in here and it cuts so deep
Take me back take me back to the moon of dreams
Bring me back bring me back to the moon of dreams
(Moon Of Dreams)
Take me back take me back to moon of dreams -
Bring me back to the moon of dreams
I knew where we were going too
It was the way we didn't choose
We knew what was and wasn't true
But still we thought we couldn't lose
Well you are not mine anymore
But nothing i'm sorry for
But i'm still longing you so much
I miss the energy of your touch
Like A wounded bird in the lonely sky
I just can't forget that i use to fly
Take me back take me back to the moon of dreams
Bring me back bring me back to the moon of dreams
Like a Frozen tear on the shaken leaf
I am left in here and it cuts so deep
Take me back take me back to the moon of dreams
Bring me back bring me back to the moon of dreams
The daytime the sunlight

I will never love again,
I tried to work it out some many different ways but
We could never be friends
And when the sun goes down and i think about you and
How we used to be
It rises again
And i lose a friend
And here i am again
Waiting on the moon of dreams
