

Love – Sasha Son

I've had it all as a little child
I've done it all as a little child
But the pain that I had
For the fame that I got
Was for what?
A little girl is crying alone
A little boy searching for his home
Giving up to a sin
For a heart-craving dream
Is that a sin?
If you really love
The love you say you love (really love)
Then surely that love would love
Then surely that love would love to love you back
If you really love
The love you say you love (really love)
Then surely that love would love
Then surely that love will love you back
For just one moment
We all wanna be
Just as happy
As one can be
(So don't you make the same mistake
You gotta give for what you take)
And don't you break
A little girl or boy
They're crying at home alone
A faithful song
Will lead the way to make you strong
If you really love
The love you say you love (really love)
Then surely that love would love
Then surely that love would love to love you back
If you really love
The love you say you love (really love)

Then surely that love would love
Then surely that love will love you back
