House Practice - Shane Wirkes

Whisper softly See me hiding Would you seek me again Asked you kindly Sleep won't find me I'm alone once again And I told you I wasn't here But in the middle of the night you'd appear With a hole in your head And I told you I wasn't here But in the middle of the night you'd appear With a hole in your head saying How could this be You were drowning Tried to warn me With your last breath of air When I look into the mirror My face will not appear And I told you I wasn't here But in the middle of the night you'd appear With a hole in your head I told you I wasn't here But in the middle of the night you'd appear With a hole in your head saying How could this be I told you I wasn't here But in the middle of the night you'd appear With a hole in your head

But in the middle of the night you'd appear

And I told you I wasn't here

With a hole in your head saying

How could you let this happen
