

NIL – SOHN

Tell me if I'm mistaken
But you're not in love
Am I right?
Things aren't the same since we came here
And we can pick up where we left off
But you're not in love
Am I right?
Well I can't say that I blame you
The tide has turned
Since our child sailed away
And the love we had was enough for two,
Not three
Oh, god, what have we done?
You look in my eyes like the ordained
But you're not in love
I'm not blind
You're being kind but you won't say it
Since you've been mine you feel hollow
And you're not in love
Am I right?
Well we've got nothing to gain here
The tide has turned since our sun sailed away
And the love we had was enough for two,
Not three
Oh, god, what have we done?
