Tired - Stone Sour

I'm alive in here So alive in here Pulling down a little peace I'm open wide in here Slow to rise in here Saving grace and killing me You say this only makes me incomplete I'm canceled out and rendered obsolete Tell the mad chameleon, He's not welcome anymore I know what I'm looking for Somewhere close Somewhere safe Somewhere I know, I know I'll never live in chains The one Is now aware So stay away from me I'm just too young to care I can see in here And I can feel in here Comatose with common sense I take my time in here Somebody get me out of here What am I so against? I just wanna watch the whole world burn Lost a million times and I won't learn Show me someone innocent, I'll show you there's no proof I may be gone, but I'm no fool I'm not close I'm not safe I don't know, don't know Am I better off in chains? The one is now aware

So stay away from me

I'm just too young to care
I need somewhere close
Somewhere safe
Somewhere I know, I know
I'll never live in chains
The one is now aware
So stay away from me
I'm just too young to care
Too young to care
Oh, oh
Too young to care
