Forever Yours – Sunrise Avenue

There are times I can leave my heart wide open There are days I believe I can heal wounds on me There are times I could come to you and hurt you I could easily bring you tears I could send you to hell, I know you

I will find something more Someone I am made for Shame on you, baby Forever yours

I will find something more Someone I am made for Shame on you, baby Forever yours

You were mine and I was yours for one night You were mine and there is no one who's like me These screams, they wake me up in the night They violently fill my room They keep me awake, I hate you

I will find something more Someone I am made for Shame on you, baby Forever yours

I will find something more Someone I am made for Shame on you, baby Forever yours

I will find something more Someone I am made for Shame on you, baby Forever yours I will find something more Someone I am made for Shame on you, baby Forever yours

(forever yours)

I will find something more Someone I am made for Shame on you, baby Forever yours

I will find something more Someone I am made for Shame on you, baby Forever yours
