

Goodbye day – Takao Kisugi lyrics

You sleep peacefully with a somewhat
Worn-out face
The dull light from the nightstand casts
A soft shadow on your eyelashes
You muttered
"I don't love you as much as I used to"
In a faint voice
I won't be the one to spare you after all These months we've spent together
Goodbye day, today is over
One more day, another day
Where nothing happens is enough for me, oh
Goodbye day, let's get it over with
One more day, another day
Making it to a new day is enough for me
When I kissed your hand,
I put all of my strength into it Could it be you've been spoiled without knowing it
Just by having me next to you?
Love can be so much deeper than this Perhaps you just don't know it yet
It's become too calm,
Since it's been buried within
The flow of time
Goodbye day, and then "I love you"
One more day, another day
That you believe in us is enough for me,
oh
Goodbye day, and then "I love you"
One more day, another day
Of you being at peace is enough for me
Goodbye day, and then "I love you"
One more day, another day
That you believe in us is enough for me,
oh

Goodbye day, and then "I love you"
One more day, another day
Of you being at peace is enough for me
