

Banana Man – Tally Hall

Do you see banana man
Hopping over on the white hot sand
Here he come with some for me
Freshly taken from banana tree
Banana man me want a ton
Give me double and a bonus one
Give me more for all me friends
This banana flow never end
Do you want a banana?
Peel it down and go mm mm mm mm
Do you want a banana?
This banana for you
Tonight we dance around the flame
Then we get to play the spirit game
Spirit names we shout out loud
Shake the thunder from the spirit cloud
All the songbirds in the tree
Chant a tune to let the spirits free
Then we see them in the night
Spirits jumpin' by the fire light
Do you want a banana?
Peel it down and go mm mm mm mm
Do you want a banana?
This banana for you
Look you, you're too uptight you know
You can laugh and kick it back and go
But without a rhythm or a rhyme
You do not banana all the time
Fly away from city on the run
Try to make a little fun
Look you come to the bungalow
African't you tell me don't you so
Don't you love the bumping of the drum
Make you shake until the bum go numb
Let the bongo play until you drop
This banana never stop

(never stop, never stop)
Forget all your troubles and go with the flow
Forget about whatever you may never know
Like whether whatever you are doing
Is whatever you should
And whether anything you do
Is every really any good
And then forget about banana
When it sticks in your throat
And when they make you want to bellow
But you're stuck in a choke
And you forget about the yellow
From the beckoning man
He'll make you take another
And make a mock of your plan
Bungalay bungalo
Make up your mind and tell me no
Well it's nine o'clock and it's getting dark
And the sun is falling from the sky
I've never left so early
And you may wonder why
Tomorrow morning on the plane
No banana make you go insane
Floating back to busy town
No banana make you want to frown
Do you want a banana?
Peel it down and go mm mm mm mm
Do you want a banana?
This banana for you
