

Damned And Divine – Tarja

It won't help if you wait for me
I'm a slave to the dark
I know I'm not saint, you see
The dawn is when it starts
Feel the shadow of my oblivion,
Hoping mercy would show her face
On the road to your own perdition
In the coal-blackened rain
Frozen in time, yearning forbidden wishes
Damned and divine
Scars of my broken kisses
What will follow if tomorrow's blind?
My eternal night
As the wind takes me away from you
Before the morning light,
My sins are fading into view
I'm so weary deep inside
Feel the shadow of my oblivion,
Hoping mercy would show her face
On the road to your own perdition
I may see you again
Frozen in time, yearning forbidden wishes
Damned and divine
Scars of my broken kisses
What will follow if tomorrow's blind?
My eternal night
Frozen in time, yearning forbidden wishes
Damned and divine
Scars of my broken kisses
What will follow if tomorrow's blind?
My eternal night
Every single dawn I die again
