White Robe - t.A.T.u

Feeling Ugly, Looking pretty Yellow Ribbons, Black Graffiti Word is written, Bond is broken No big secret left unspoken Sun is painted in the corner But it's never getting warmer All the lies they keep on selling But you never check the spelling Flying Bullets Hit the targets Wings and halos Five to seven In these white robes Through the darkness Paragliding Back to heaven Flying Bullets Hit the targets Wings and halos Five to seven In these white robes Through the darkness Paragliding Back to heaven Time is running, we are sitting Back together just for splitting You are crying in the corner Always next and never former Open up and let me hear it Former body, future spirit Brain is useless, chair is rocking Open doors for dead man walking Flying Bullets Hit the targets Wings and halos Five to seven

In these white robes
Through the darkness
Paragliding
Back to heaven
Flying Bullets
Hit the targets
Wings and halos
Five to seven
In these white robes
Through the darkness
Paragliding
Back to heaven
