In This Shirt - The Irrepressibles

I am lost in our rainbow

Now our rainbow has gone

Overcast by your shadow

As our worlds move on

In this shirt, I can be you

To be near you for a while

In this shirt, I can be you

To be near you for a while

There's a crane

Knocking down

All those things

That we were

I awake

In the night to hear the engines purr

There's a pain

It does ripple

Through my frame, makes me lame

There's a thorn in my side

It's the shame, it's the pride

Of you and me

Ever changing

Moving on now

Moving fast

And his touch

Must be wanted

Must become

Through your ask

But I need Jake to tell you

That I love you

It never rests

And I've bled every day now

For a year

For a year

I did send you a note

On the wind for to read

Our names there together

Must have fallen like a seed
To the depths of the soil
Buried deep in the ground
On the wind, I could hear you
Call my name, held the sounds
I am lost
I am lost,
In our rainbow
Now our rainbow has gone
I am lost, in our rainbow
Now our rainbow has gone
I am lost

I am lost
