

Give Me Your Fire, Give Me Your Rain – The Paper Kites

I could notice all the lines
And I'd only go insane
I could love you all the time
I'm not always gonna say
Still I don't want to feel it without you
Don't want to feel it with no one else
Give me your fire, give me your rain
Give me a little love from you
I can fan a fire
I can keep it from burning away
But what's it gonna take to stop the silence?
I could live as a liar
Say that I'm turning away
But giving up won't give up desire
And I don't want to feel it without you
Don't wanna feel it with nobody else
Give me your fire, give me your rain
Give me a little love from you
Give me your fire, give me your rain
A little love from you
Give me your fire, give me your rain
A little love from you
Watching windows, watching stars
Colored lights and empty bars
All the houses in the yard
All the streets and passing cars
What's the distance where you are?
Can I make it back to your heart?
Give me your fire, give me your rain
A little love from you
Give me your fire, give me your rain
A little love from you
Give me your fire, give me your rain
A little love from you
Give me your fire, give me your rain

A little love from you
Give me your fire, give me your rain
A little love from you
Give me your fire, give me your rain
A little love from you
