

Look At The Tears – Thomas Anders

I know what I was doing was the wrong thing,

Baby

Give in to my desire for a night

Thought when the morning comes

Nothing will tell of the fire

But my guilt didn't fade with the light

Look at the tears this grown man cries

Rivers of hope fall from my eyes

Don't let it end, I'm on my knees

Stay, baby, stay, oh please

Now here I stand before you, girl,

And have to hurt you

My heart's my witness, it didn't mean a thing

Believing me again

Must be so hard to do

Our love's a bird with broken wings

Look at the tears this grown man cries

Rivers of hope fall from my eyes

Don't let it end, I'm on my knees

Stay, baby, stay, oh please

Look at me just once and break the silence,

Baby

I need your forgiveness like a tree needs

The rain

So begin the forgetting, try if you can

Talk to your heart into loving me again

Look at the tears, I'm crying, girl

Don't let it end, I'm on my knees

Stay, baby, stay

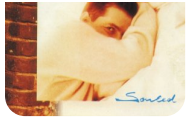

Don't let it end, I'm on my knees

Stay, baby, stay, oh please, oh please

Stay, baby, stay, forgive me please

Please
